Excerpt: .and showed hospitality to all in Such education as was then known-and it is the fashion now rather to underrate it--the monks of Kelso cultivated and promoted. They had schools in the town of Roxburgh as early as the reign of William the Lion; and they furnished instruction within the monastery to a higher class than those who benefited by their burghal schools. In the thirteenth century, the widowed Lady of Molle resigned a part of her dowery lands to the convent, on the condition that they should maintain her son among the scholars of the best rank in their poor s house. That the arts were cultivated within the Abbey walls, we may conclude without much extrinsic evidence. The beautiful and somewhat singular architecture of the ruined church itself, still gives proof of taste and skill and some science in the builders, at...
