Containing Communications on Various Subjects in Husbandry Rural Affairs In presenting to agriculturists our third volume, we evince our desire to promote their interests, by promulgating all the information our correspondents have favoured us with, on the subjects we deem generally important. Some, of minor consideration, have been omitted. But we thankfully acknowledge, the public and patriotic motives of all. We should be highly gratified by the increase in number of our correspondents; because it would evidence an increase of a spirit of true patriotism, in thus diffusing a knowledge of the art, by which the great body of our citizens, in this agricultural country, not only gain a plentiful subsistence, but contribute to that of others; and mainly augment the public prosperity. The reception given to our former publications, justifies a hope, that the present will be favourably, and, we trust, profitably accepted. We conceive that it will not suffer by a comparison with our former volumes; as many subjects are brought forward well...
